So throw us a lifeline
And we've only begun
We're just moving about in a clumsy manner

So come on everyone, jump on
To this mighty ship that's sinking
We'll sail around the world together just briefly

So now you're drowning and I don't know who to save
We've sung you song after song
But we're not moving
We are drifting away, you are dragging us down

But we can all rejoice and say that we have shared
The same boat
It's all we ever wanted to say

So throw us a lifeline
And we've only begun
You wont let it go, no no
'Cause your roots are rock solid

So come on everyone, jump on
To this mighty ship that's sinking
We'll sail around the world together just briefly

So now you're drowning and I don't know who to save
We've sung you song after song
But we're not moving
We are drifting away, you are dragging us down

But we can all rejoice and say that we have shared
The same boat
It's all we ever wanted to say

We're drifting away from you right now
So throw us the lifeline
Call out to me, call out to me cause

We still don't understand
We still don't understand

We're drifting away from you right now
So throw us the lifeline
Call out to me, call out to me cause

We still don't understand

We're drifting away from you right now
So throw us the lifeline
Call out to me, call out to me cause

We still don't understand
We still don't understand
