

Proclaiming Cadence "Her Shaking Heart"

Visit "Her Shaking Heart" on MotoLyrics.com

I watched as the life fell out of her, like in slow motion.
I watched from the side as she spiraled down.
I thought that she could make it out alive, well I was wrong.
I scream out in horror as she spirals down.
Down down down.

She never knew, if anyone cared...'cause I wasn't there.

Now I see the lives that broke and are breaking all because her heart was shaking.
And no one took the time to hold it down and say, "Hey they girl, ya make me proud." And I thought she was like the rest and dealt with pain.
Well I was right, she just couldn't take it again.

Those dimples and her braces marked he innocence,
she was only twelve years old and dreamed still of her prince.
She was coming down inside and every night she'd pray.
But when she saw the light she turned the other way.

Visit Proclaiming Cadence page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.