If I start rambling, don't mind me
I might get off track, but who doesn't
I love rap music, but I hate the fake lifestyle
And usually come to law with it
So I choose not to part take it
All the "and just do what I do
I'ma write this write sometimes I over think
It's not that serious I remind myself
My creativity flows best
When I'm not concerned we try to make hits
It's all fucked up if you ask me
When you " want just to go platinum,
No thank you, it's obvious clearly
That I'm comfortable with myself
And that's all that matters
I'm at the point in my life where I'm cool in the external perks
I just want my share
And I can show you how to live to the fullest
But you gotta follow me like Twitter
This is not the "group, it won't be sweet
Hella hard boulevard not easy street

Without rhyme or reason
I do without love, I don't follow no sequence
I do without love, I don't follow no sequence
Without rhyme or reason
I do without love, I don't follow no sequence
Without rhyme or reason
I do without love, I don't follow no sequence

It feels so good to have my own style
These other rappers should try it, they might like it
They spend so much time copying trends
They don't even know what it's like to be themselves
Or is it that they don't like the self
Maybe " you ain't have none
But maybe they would love you more
Until you actually try you can never be sure
I know, back " cause your reality is not so gorgeous
The ugly truth, that you ain't got the heart to face it

You would lie, money, food, music
I score points like € and win trophies€
Having fun with it, no hate
You should be concerned with yours
Cause my life is awesome
I'm very successful, I might take a little time off out in the Tropic
Sip € drinks, laugh and get tanned

Without rhyme or reason
I do without love, I don't follow no sequence
I do without love, I don't follow no sequence
Without rhyme or reason
I do without love, I don't follow no sequence
Without rhyme or reason
I do without love, I don't follow no sequence
Without rhyme or reason
I do without love, I don't follow no sequence.
