Your body's filled with fire
Your heart is filled with ice
You never cared for others
So you will die, alone
So you will die, alone!

You're walking all along
You're running now through midnight's cold
They all will follow you
Will follow you
Until you die

You're walking all along
You're running now through midnight's cold
They all will follow you
Will follow you
Until you die

Your body's filled with fire
Your heart is filled with ice
You never cared for others
So you will die, alone

You're walking all along
You're running now through midnight's cold
They all will follow you
Will follow you
Until you die

You're walking all along
You're running now through midnight's cold
They all will follow you
Will follow you
Until you die

'Til you die!
