"Underneath Your Skin"

Visit "Underneath Your Skin" on MotoLyrics.com

You are squirming underneath your skin
You can't hide your plastic spine
What will make you, it shall break you
The truth will only tell in time
You are falling, I hear you calling, you were stalling for some time
You were breaking from the making, you never had any time to survive
You are squirming underneath your skin
You can't live with what's inside
It will take you, it will break you
This guilt that holds itself inside
You are falling, I hear you calling, you were stalling for
some time
time to survive
What will make you, it shall break you
It will take you, it will break you
You can't survive
You are falling, I hear you calling, you were stalling for
some time
time to survive
You can't survive, you wont survive, you can't, you can't survive
What will make you, it shall break you
It will take you, it will break you
