Well do you wanna talk about it,
Do you think you'd understand, how things can get so fucked up with such good, such good, intentions.
and if, if roofs turn to sky,
held by the gravity of nothing,
an ironic and literal making of a bed.
you know, you can walk away,
but there is a reason to stay.
they make bad bad jokes,
it's okay not to laugh.
for every push forward,
you get the same fucking push back.
you had, you had nowhere to go,
so you, you found someplace,
you have, you have to say you start lying what the fuck were you thinking?
i'm not sorry...
i'd do it all again.
all the lines between hate, love, and revenge
it's just dead, it's dead, it's dead, but just dead feelings.
