I hang my head in sorrow
Angered by fate's design
This world with no tomorrow
Why does it live a lie?

Bound by the laws of madness
There which darkness preys
Each of us claim to greatness
Each of us death embrace

It fills my life with hope
It watches over me
My own decisions flow
Persistent, we endure
The masses, immature
The future is secure

The promise always broken
Assurances insane
The book is never written
The road is never tamed

You live a lie so faded
Rebuilding facts at dawn
You bet your soul is jaded
We use our will so strong

It fills my life with hope
It watches over me
My own decisions flow
Persistent, we endure
The masses, immature
The future is secure
