Television people, television people
I see an old friend when I look into your eyes
Someone who truly understands
You'll always be there for me late night or early morning
Long after you're dead I'll turn you on We're one within, we're one without
We're one within without (I hear the people calling)
We're one within, we're one without
We're one within without
Television people, television people
You never question what I've done or where I've been
I sit before you and I feel so free
You show me joy and sorrow, where will I be tomorrow
Long after your dead you'll be with me
You were one within, we're one without
We're one within without (I hear the people calling)
We're one within, we're one without
We're one within without
Television people, television people
Go cry to the night but stay close the light
When you walk away, walk away
The love we have stored can never be explored

So just walk away from me
This life that I live is so hard to forgive
I've abandoned the notion of living in peace
I search and destroy like a boy's deadly toy
All the men and the women who've caused me to grieve
Mama said that if I lost my mind
It would be impossible to find
To the good of the world I am blind
Walk away from me, please
Once I was cold but now I'm warm
It feels like the calm before the storm
Faces, places, scars without traces
That's what my life is...I'm possessed...
I can't love you, I can only hurt you
Uumgh...here it comes...
That far away feeling again...

Uuhh...uuhh...

Don't make a sound, keep your head to the ground

And just walk away, walk way

Put on your dress, ther's no need to confess, baby

Walkaway, walk way

Go cry to the night but stay close to the light
