Sweet young and innocent - Daddys little girl
They love your pretty face - you're going for Miss World
There ain't no easy way - There's nothing left to say

One night in Paris with a former superstar
You lost your innocence in a backseat of a car
Well beauty ain't no crime - but it fades away with time

Mannequin - a heart of stone
Just like a moving target you're alone
Mannequin - down on your knees
You think you got the power, Baby please

You flash your pretty face in a fashion magazine
You've been around the world since you were just sixteen
You've lost your teenage pride - You're dying deep inside

Last night you heard a scream from the corner in a bar
You turned your head around just like a former star
Your dreams will fade away - there's nothing left to say

I saw you crying in the moonlight - higher than the sun
Pretty close to scream in your mannequin dream
