Creating the heat
Awaiting the unknown
The elder want new life
They are not alone

And with the help of physics
I will be reconstructed
A man again

Full of electricity
The sources come alive
There's no authority
To keep them deprived

Using the new mechanics
To create a type of static
Driving fast from old feelings
That will change completely

Light falls on new life
The assembly stares on
Can this be real?
What planet are they from?

And with the help of physics
I will be reconstructed
A man again

New found creativity
Rightly transformed
Into atomic energy
And the uninformed

The sound is solid
Perforate and demolish
Satisfied, they gave a chance
If it's true it will last
