I can't sing today, no voice in my head
Can spell out the words, now our love is dead
So if you hear it break, it breaks from the heart
It sounds like a song, but it isn't an art

No-body told me, to love her carefully
A happiness, well it fades it from kiss to kiss to kiss
Now defeat, stands over me
I hear her sweetly say, what you can't say
When you leave

From here I despair, it's ugly and true
So much that it hurts, too much to show you
So this is the face, we're all the same
It cracks when I smile, and it bleeds in the rain

No-body told me, to love her carefully
The happiness, well it fades from kiss to kiss to kiss
Now defeat, stands over me
I hear her sweetly say, what you can't say
When you leave

Oh isn't it sad, oh, isn't it sad
My heart is screaming, look what you had
It may be she's waiting home and if she is
I'm going to tell her how much I miss her

Please, come back to me
I'll be your man and say
What you can't say
Cus I'm weak
