Secret says she's tired
Secret says she might like today
I'm full of sympathy
That's what she needs from me

I tell my secret a story
Secret says they help her sleep at night
I offer reasoning
When she's not listening

I want us to survive
I dream of ways to make her think
We're happy all the time
I dream all day

Seeing questions all the time
Instead of gazing in her eyes
She's getting tired of things you do
Getting tired of minding you

I know my secret's trying
I know she doesn't have to understand
She lets me lean on her
She acts as counselor

And though we never argue
Secret has a guideline just for me
Pretend we're friends again
Therefore she counts to ten

I want us to survive
I dream of ways to make her think
We're happy all the time
I dream all day

Seeing questions all the time
Instead of gazing in her eyes
She's getting tired of things you do
Getting tired of minding you

What a line?

Thinking over what she said
She's getting tired of things you do
Getting tired of minding you

I wonder if she'd say
If she was?
A secret?
As much as I like panicking

I want us to survive
I dream of ways to make her think
We're happy all the time
I dream all day

What a line?
Thinking over what she said
She's getting tired of things you do
Getting tired of minding you
She's getting tired of things you do
Getting tired of minding you
