"Monday Morning"

There's nothing to do so you just stay in bed, (oh poor thing). Why live in the world when you can live in your head? And you can go out late from Monday till Saturday turns into Sunday and now you're back here at Monday so we can do it all over again. And now you go aah ah ah (etc) I want a refund, I want a light, I want a reason to make it thru the night. Alright. And so you finally left school, so now what are you going to do? Now you're so grown up, yeah you're oh so mature. Going out late from Monday, chuck up in the street on Sunday, you don't want to live till Monday and have to do it all again. And you go aah ah ah (etc) I want a refund, I want a light, I want a reason for all this night after night after night after night. Oh I know that it's stupid but I just can't seem to spend a night at home 'cos me friends left town and I'm here all alone. Oh yeah they said the past must die for the future to be born, in that case die little mother. Stomach in. Chest out. On your marks. Get set. Go. Now, now that you're free what are you going to be? And who are you going to see? And where, where will you go and how will you know you didn't get it all wrong? Is this the light of a new day dawning? A future bright that you can walk in? No, it's just another Monday morning. Do it all over again oh baby. La la la la la la, (etc). Do do, do do do do (etc).
