"Finding My Place"

Sometime soon I think I'll find my place
Never fit into the mold I was given
But am I too afraid
To find out what I am
Or is there something in
My way that I don't know about
Sorry if I failed you
I don't know me
I won't know my face
So find me my place
I don't want us to end our lives
In the confines of a cubicle
So sterile
But who am I to say
What you consider bliss
I'm just warning you that
All the straps will hold you down
Sorry if I failed you
I don't know me
I won't know my face
So find me my place
Can't you see
That I don't share or care for
The dreams you have
The dreams you have for me
Sorry if I failed you
I don't know me
I won't know my face
So find me my place
Sorry if I failed you
I don't know me
I won't know me
So find me my place
