"Let Go"

just wanna let go of my life forget it ever happened to me and never ever hang on again can I just let go so im free no more anyone taking advantage of me im a girl and i had a life no more of this let go

no one enjoys to see me in the days scary as can be without wasting away never to know the spoils of life im a free girl im in my own world now im not a real one im a little off course to get me back on track gimme back my life and to never know me the way that I am and only a little lonely

[chorus]

I just wanna let go of my life
forget it ever happened to me

if there was chance for me to live free i'd take that chance for only me not anyone else in the world can stop me im dreaming far too much and im a little in space to get me back in my place gimme back my life to live, free im little girl in my own world never to know what life holds a handsome man a well behaved child man this dream has gone wild no one else is bringing me back on track so im gonna let go
