What's the point
You won't be there
Fortunately no one cares

You despise
You despair
Why don't you get angry
Don't you care

What do you think I came here for
I just wanted to see
What do you think I'm looking for
I don't want to believe

You already knew it
You already knew it

It takes too long
It's not enough
There's nothing left
And now he's gone again
He's gone again

What do you think I came here for
I just wanted to see
What do you think I'm looking for
I don't want to believe
