Have you ever been awake all night
And not a thing could take it all away
I'm beginning to admit to it
When someone else's loss isn't for me
For everyone in their own world
Who's stopping you, so find away
I wanna get where we're going
Just count out to yourself, make sure there's no one else
I'll be the last one to know
Say, I'm gonna find my own way back to earth
Say I can't forget what I had There's something that I wanted to know
Remember I won't let it go
Something like insanity, that's me
I give it anyway that is my life
Well I know I can't predict the time
Don't take me with you when you can't decide
So many of my friends have been the ones
That never let me down again
Cause I know when I'm awake in sleep
But when I sleep it's to awaken me
