Well here's a message to Spaceship Earth, can we find out now what we are truly worth, beam across the sky cause i know that you can cry, but it's time to set the record straight, this planet can no longer wait, not filled with so much hate.

There's a History deep down inside us all ever since the day that we began to fall, no longer can we loose cause it's time for us to choose, it's time to set the record straight, this planet can no longer wait, not filled with so much hate.

Oh let's go to a midnight show, we all just come and go, if only we could do then we'd try to do, but that's not true.

instrumental

Theres an issue to be settled among the Warlords of out time, can we find out whose to blame for the many crimes, just look at all those times we made all those mistakes.

I think the blame it lay's with you, maybe the blame it lays with me, I know the blame it lays with all of us.
