there's no living in my life anymore the seas have gone dry and the rain stopped falling please don't you cry anymore can't you see listen to the breeze, whisper to me please don't send me to the path of nevermore even the valleys below where the rays of the sun were so warn and tender now haven't anything to grow can't you see

why did you have to leave me why did you deceive me you send me to the path of nevermore when you say you didn't love me anymore nevermore
nevermore
