I see the people guided by fear
What is the problem to see more clear?
Is this delay created by the thoughts we are forced to think
Or are we all so scared we're too afraid to move freely

I'm so sick of this world as we advance
Can't see anymore of this abuse and lies
Got to step up for honesty and break the chain we hold
No more empty lies!, no more living by default!

Is it like history excels, the mute printed by the higher man?
For no purpose we assume that we're worthless and extinct
Acceptance bleeds from the walls of our closed soul
Keeping out the struggle, so no progress will unfold

Look at the world as we got it here,
It's only one shot, don't treat this like a subtle game
Cause don't you see that being bashfully ruins our life Maybe life has no meaning, We can make it meaningful!
It's better to fight for a purpose than be waiting to die
