throw a ten pound box of roofing nails onto Hwy. 94 got nothing better to do than watch the cars crash cause my lifes a bore chainsaw down some power poles and leave people in the dark plant anti-personnel mines on the bike paths in the park malicious mishief
and my body count grows higher standing in the warm glow of a 4 alarm house fire
bring the city to its knees a living nightmare for police and insurance companies put pirahnas in the swimming pools in the ritzy part of town cross out rival gangsters tags and watch em gun each other down steal a bunch of cotter pins from the theme-park rides watch TV the next day to see how many people died shoot tear gas in the windows of a crowded trendy bar watch the yuppies trample each other from the safety of my car
