Far before our time
I feel some nervousness
I try to justify
Not so much what I did but
Just how the child died
Don't need just anyone
Not those with plastic face masks on
Can't trust just anyone
My wires are crossed it's causing sparks
(Chorus)
Disconnected from our state of mind
Overloaded far before our time X2
I gaze through blackened shades
I peer between the blinds
Down on the streets below
They're fuckin hanging all the time
They're invisible offspring
New shipments everyday
They'll tell you the same thing
We're youth of a star walk nation
(Chorus)
They say that nothing lasts forever in this world cause
It's all done with mirrors
The glass is thin just as a reflection there within Oh!
Energy vampires for condemnation
Such a harsh abbreviation to maintain when you're in Babylon for glory
Take me away, all right now!
