Baby, is it all right if I break it down
And give you something romantic?
I figured since it's raining
This would be the perfect time for us

Can you hear the sounds of the Love angels calling us?
Sweet violins and harps playing
Then suddenly there's this kiss of trust

Dapper than the morning dew
Tonight has chosen me and you
And girl I vow to make everyone
Of your fantasies come true

I can hear, horns sounding, bells ringing
A full orchestra and a choir singing
The oceans calm and the rivers flowing
It feels so good, keep on going

Raindrops keep falling on our heads, as we make love
We won't stop, the rain keeps falling down on both of us
Raindrops keep falling on our heads, as we make love
We won't stop, the rain keeps falling down on both of
us

Can you see the flowers blooming
Slowly as the seasons change
The gift of joy is founded
When I softly hear you call my name

Rose petals and all these oils
Surrounded by 100 candles
An eagle delivers a letter that says
The night will last forever

Dapper than the morning dew
Tonight has chosen me and you
And girl I promise to make everyone
Of your fantasies come true

I can hear, horns sounding, bells ringing
A full orchestra and a choir singing
The oceans calm and the rivers flowing
Don't you stop, keep on going

Raindrops keep falling on our heads, as we make love
We won't stop, the rain keeps falling down, on both of
us
Raindrops keep falling on our heads, as we make love
We won't stop, the rain keeps falling down, on both of
us

Through all the trees, the smooth wind blows
Then suddenly a rainbow
And an ocean filled with white sailboats
And huge waterfalls that overflow

See those in well are fairy tales
I will buck for love
And imagine far away from here in a land
Where the sky cries joyful tears

Baby, another words
Will you marry me?
