Hey ho, ever so ever so
There's a magical place to go
It's a dream reaction set in a catacomb
For the technical, whimsical gramophone

And I can see you
You took the axe to slice the cake
Didn't you know?
You ruined the show?
It's time you should go

Green fields never seen it this way
High tide drop out and drift away
Maybe time runs backwards
Yesterday is today (today)
Change the war divisions into a love parade

And I can hear you

Don't recognise what you have become
A corporate plan
Boring and bland
Throwing your hand

Fuzz tones echoing through the hall
Screaming and spiralling through the wall
The game's for me and up in a free for all (for all)
Turn your favourite madman into the king of cool

But I can't touch you
That bargepole there is just out of reach
Filling the void
Dark asteroid
So who's paranoid?
