Be still and stand in line, children Be still and stand in line, bitches obstruct my view of this green earth you see it hurts my eyes nothing I've made satisfies this urge to hurt you, dears my primal need to feel this power has made me numb as such I've become inbetween and I can never see just what I've done like those before and those to come we are emotionless
this place is meaningless

Be Still
Be Still
Be Still and Know That I Am God
Behave
Behave
Behave and Know That I Am God be still as one behave my sons don't need as much don't look, don't touch
