Is there something you've been waiting for
For a long time?
A stupid game where you've been keeping score
In your mind

You write the books in your head
I'll keep the last days instead
Can you calculate an even cure
And a crime?

So you come around
We all slow down
So you come around
I tried to wear you out

With my newborn history
A faithless eulogy
And if I can't keep you down
No one will

I can see the bones beneath the stare
Of your eyes
Have you traded in the yellow hair
For cheap smiles?

Call you another doctor

This one seems to think that you're just fine
I have tasted all your sympathy
And I don't care

So you come around
We all slow down
So you come around
I tried to wear you out

With my newborn history
A faithless eulogy
And if I can't keep you down
No one will

So you come around

We all slow down
So you come around
I tried to wear you out

So you come around
We all slow down
So you come around
I tried to wear you out, wear you out

I tried to wear you out, wear you out
I tried to wear you out, wear you out
I tried to wear you out, wear you out
I tried to wear you out
