Forever I will miss you
Forever I will cry
Why did you have to leave this earth
And gain your wings to fly
You know I loved you dearly
More than anyone could know
Why did you have to leave so soon
Why did you have to go

My heart, down here is broken
And it can never mend
Forever, I will keep protecting you
Until the very end

I sit and mend my puncture wounds
Because they never end
I keep in mind what I've got lose
My heart to you I lend
To all of those who have ever lost
Somebody that they knew
So think about it through and through
This song goes out to you

I pray to God for answers
I talk to Him each day
I hope that you can hear me, Lord
As on bended knee's I pray
Take good care of my friend up there
She was much wanted here
Wrap your arms around her please
And tell her I still care

My heart, down here is broken
And it can never mend
Forever, I will keep protecting you
Until the very end

I sit and mend my puncture wounds
Because they never end
I keep in mind what I've got lose
My heart to you I lend

To all of those who have ever lost
Somebody that they knew
So think about it through and through
This song goes out to you

Let her know I love her so
And will forever more
Keep her protected, safe and warm
And wrapped in love so pure

I sit and mend my puncture wounds
Because they never end
I keep in mind what I've got lose
My heart to you I lend
To all of those who have ever lost
Somebody that they knew
So think about it through and through
This song goes out to you

I sit and mend my puncture wounds
Because they never end
I keep in mind what I've got lose
My heart to you I lend
To all of those who have ever lost
Somebody that they knew
So think about it through and through
This song goes out to you

So think about it through and through
And mend your puncture wounds
