What if darkness failed you tonight what if you unraveled your life what if you began to feel again what if you lost your heart and then what if you became undone what if dreams unveiled you tonight what if you believed this was right what if you began to feel the things that you have never revealed what if you became a man tonight

riots rage
across your heart gently rocks the dark

what if you began to walk the light what if you began to feel again what if you lost your heart again what if you became
undone
one to one

what if you lost yourself in she what if you found yourself- believe what if you found yourself -set free what if you lost yourself in me...?
