I know you want to speak but there's no sound
Can't say what's going on inside right now
Silent tears gave away what you cannot reveal
You let your fear take control of what you feel

Chorus:

When you find your voice inside your heart
I will be there for you wherever you are
When you find the strength to speak the words will come to you

When you find your voice you'll be silent for more
And like the thundering water fall
All that you held back so long were pour out of you
When you find your voice

Sometimes you've got to fall to rise again
To find the rhyme or reason for the pain
And when your time has come you know how to begin You'll tell the world all you've held deep within

Chorus:

When you find your voice inside your heart
When you find the strength to speak the words will
come to you

When you find your voice you'll be silent for more
And like the thundering water fall
All that you have back so long were pour out of you
When you find your voice

Bridge:

Even if it takes a hundred days for you
To cry and will be sheltered when you finally be come true

Chorus:

When you find your voice inside your heart
I will be there for you wherever you are
When you find the strength to speak the words are gonna come to you

When you find your voice you'll be silent for more
And like the thundering water fall
When you find your voice

Your voice
