Never again
you say the words and let the sunshine in again
You can close your eyes and know it's safe inside yo sing your lullaby
(now I lay me down)

You broke the chains and you won't be silent anymore
Oh no!
Now you're gonna shout about it
No! no more!
Yeah yeah this is the end

The silence is broken now
it's over now
the words have been spoken
And with every word you say you blow away
the tears of another time

Face to face Anyone can see that you're not the child you were before (now I lay me down)

You take your place no one can take away your heart
Oh no!
There can be no doubt about it

No! no more!

it's over now
the truth has been spoken
And with every word you say
you blow away

Never again you say the words and let

the sunshine in again
You can change the world but no one can take away your heart

The silence is broken now
it's over now
the words have been spoken
And with every word you say
you blow away

it's over now
you blow away
the scene of another crime
