I changed the world with the visions that I saw
And the vision that I lost became my own
I wanted it all, but I found that this could take some time Before I trust in what I believed in Now Im thinking that I might lose it all
Just wait for my signal eager eyes
Tell me every single thing youve been hiding away
Youve tried to rush into me
So Im asking why not take your time
Are you so willing to be in love
That you would ask me if you were beautiful when you already know
The answer is clear,
to love is to fear
And to be alone, is to be without you
