While you slept I whispered a few words in your ear
Perfection stands out like you in a crowded room
When all I knew was left behind
You showed me love
And this was more than words
But you're not alone
Cause I won't let go
And if you feel distant I will bring you home
I could be the one to bring you back
So just open your eyes, open your eyes
The last words I said were the ones I regret
If you feel hopeless
I will bring you comfort
I could be the one
