"Within These Walls"

When I hold my hand above the flame
When I hold my breath beneath the wave
Come to me, find me there
Come save me, find me there
All I have is you

In this world too unkind
In this place too cold
In this night that is too long

When I lose sight of what is real
When I can't escape the way I feel

Come to me, find me there
Come save me, find me there
All I have is you

In this world too unkind
In this place too cold
In this night that is too long

In this world too unkind
In this place too cold
In this night that is too long
