Now that she's gone so far away
I couldn't make her stay for just another day

Now that she's not in the space
She didn't leave her trace

Love some kind of a dream
Just a little taste
Begining in your eyes
Takes it to hot skyes

Love beautiful like spring
Like now what I think
Everyone is looking for
The world to explore

I start to understand
To dream think about love
I've been after long
May be I should have known

Love makes you feel alive
Love cuts like a knife
There is no way to hide
Bring it feel inside

Now that she's gone so far away
I couldn't make her stay for just another day
Now that she's not in the space
She didn't leave her trace
