Earth shares what earth receives
And now only blood brings life
A killer bring life, producer bring life
Protector bring life, soiled hands bring life

The tree of democracy shall be watered by the blood of revolution
So go plant a seed, go plant a seed for harvest
Go plant a seed for harvest producer

Producer, producer, producer, producer

And it all shall fall by the grace of the people and
It all shall fall by the grace of the people and
It all shall fall by the grace of the people and
It all shall fall by the grace of the people and
It all shall fall
It all shall fall

I first met you and the ideas you uphold while incarcerated
A victim of a social experiment Eventually addicted to your eight hour injections of hypocrisy
And arrogance and greed
Forced to sit with complicity in front of my executioners
As they bludgeoned me with their So called superior values and demanded my submission

I became an indentured servant in a factory

Where I myself was the product
Who's useful quality was to protect their palaces
Every word uttered from their mouths strangled me

So that every thought I express
Shall sow the seed for the noose around their necks
And set fire to their homes

And every word uttered from their mouths strangled me

So that every thought I express
Shall sow the seed for the noose around their necks
And set fire to their homes

And set fire to their homes

And it all shall fall by the grace of the people and
It all shall fall by the grace of the people and
It all shall fall by the grace of the people and
It all shall fall by the grace of the people and
It all shall fall by the grace of the people and
It all shall fall
