I don't know what's happening
The word you and me is fading
This isn't suppose to be,
Coz I'm falling on my knees,
Tell me how hard this can be,
I'm breaking,
I'm falling,
I'm drowning,
Aren't you gonna save me?
I thought you were my superhero,
As soon as this was over,
You learnt to fly,
You left me behind, I didn't say anything,
I could have came with you,
And we could have lived a love story
Full of love and happiness,
Un till I saw you again,
And heard you say,
Let's fly away,

Chorus

How hard could it be if you said that before?
My pages are falling apart,
Can you read my heart once again?
Can you be my superhero once again?
Can you be with me once again?
Oh can't we just fly away.
Isn't there a rewind button, that I can press, and fly
away.

Remember those times?
Where you said that you loved me
Why can't you be you? And try to take those words back
We should just try to fly away,
Not in to the darkness, but happiness,
Would it work once again?
Would be able to fly away?
Fly Away, away, away, AWAY!

Chorus

How hard could it be if you said that before?
My pages are falling apart,
Can you read my heart once again?
Can you be my superhero once again?
Can you be with me once again?
Oh can't we just fly away.
Isn't there a rewind button that I can press, and fly
away?

Why is this so hard to me?
Why can't we just live you and me?
Life just goes on like a broken tape
But I will try to grow wings like a butterfly, get you and fly away
Away to a fairytale, where will be together yeah, Nothing else will ever happen, did you ever think such a thing
Your name is tattooed in my heart, forever, and ever.
Now hold on, were going up into the skies.

Chorus

How hard could it be if you said that before?
My pages are falling apart,
Can you read my heart once again?
Can you be my superhero once again?
Can you be with me once again?
Oh can't we just fly away.
Isn't there a rewind button that I can press, and fly
away?
