Why should I write another song?
Why should I write another song?
No more love songs in the air
No more love songs in my heart
I live on one side
But I know how it is on the other
I'm only a man who respects
His own wants and needs
Been waiting for years but no bell rings
Been waiting for years but no bird sings
But it doesn't take time
Time to sense, does it?
Teach what you know
Or your knowledge will poison you
You can't bridge a distance
You'd better not try at all
Why should I write another song?
