

Dana Glover"It's you i have loved"

Visit "It's you i have loved" on MotoLyrics.com

I've been searching for reason and I'm running out of time

I can feel that it's the season

Time to make up my mind

And I can't really tell ya what I'm gonna do

There are so many thoughts in my head

There are two roads to walk down

And one road to choose

So I'm thinking over the things that you've said

I'm thinking over the things

Thinking over, thinking over

Thinking over the things that you've said

I'm thinking over, thinking over, thinking over the things

Am I ready for forever

Oh, God, show me a sign

Cause if we're to be together

Then it's got to be divine

And I can't really tell ya what I'm gonna do

There are so many thoughts in my head

There are two roads to walk down

And one road to choose

So I'm thinking over the things that you've said

I'm thinking over the things

Thinking over, thinking over

Thinking over the things that you've said

I'm thinking over, thinking over, thinking over the
things

He wants to marry me, carry me far away

He wants to love me for life

He wants to be with me every morning I awake

He wants to hold me thru the night

Father, which way should I go?

I cannot clearly see

And, oh, I love him so
But only you know if he's the one for me

Thinking over, thinking over
Thinking over the things that you've said
I'm thinking over, thinking over, thinking over the
things

And I can't really tell ya what I'm gonna do
There are so many thoughts in my head
There are two roads to walk down
And one road to choose
So I'm thinking over the things that you've said

Oh, is this where I wanna be?

Thinking over the things that you said

Visit Dana Glover page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.