Fairytales by Randi Laubek from the album: Ducks and Drakes

Music & words: Randi Laubek

You will be glad for what youve got
Saying goodbye make things mean an awful lot
You give your word for what you tell me
All you see is stronger now
You smell the elderberry flowers
Feel a certain atmosphere out here
We were children when you first said to me:
Come on lets stay out late tonight
And well tell nothing, no well tell nothing
Lets find a place to hide
Among stargazing elfgirls in cobwebscarfs
Dancing the night in an endless laugh
Now I am leaving my fairytale
You will be so glad for what youve got...etc.
All that I had I will remember
-And you will be in me
Like a secret once again you're saying to me
Lets stay up late tonight
And well tell nothing, no well tell nothing
Lets find a place to hide
Among stargazing elfgirls in cobwebscarfs...etc.
You will be so glad for what you give
See how you love makes life easier to live
You give your word for what you tell me
Everything is stronger now
The innocence of our little child
Causes every vision of our mind
You put a fire inside me, babe
And how love
My steamy streams of watersongs
My sea my smell of summersea
So no, no baby no, no, no I'll never leave
My fairytale will always stay in me
They are our love
