Peace of Mind by Randi Laubek from the album: Ducks and Drakes

Music & words: Randi Laubek

I think you want it just as much as I

I think you wanna hold me

But you're afraid it isn't right

But I can't help it, baby, Im turning off the light

And you're gonna show me a glimpse of the sky

The fight is over!

My shields are being lowered

I sense that you are so confused

But don't make me go

Coz everybodys searching so seldom satisfied

Now Im gonna bring you some peace of mind

Why don't we see the gift is right before us?

Why does our lovin always cause a war?

It seems I cannot leave my doubts behind me

But I never will leave you lonely one more time

So try to forgive me

- I loose the thread sometimes

And drown the things that matters

In difference and lies

But baby I knew when I saw you

I read it in your eyes

Youre gonna bring back a glimpse of the sky

Why don't we see the gift is right before us...etc.

What is going wrong with our love?

Will the yearning never end?

Is it like the miscovered mountain?

Is it like the harvest of defense?

Seem I cannot leave my doubts behind me

But I never will leave you lonely one more time

So don't do this baby don't drop it on the floor

Its foolish when we have it all

-Were always wanting more

But I knew when I saw you

I read it in your eyes

That you're gonna bring me some peace of mind

Youre gonna bring me peace
