Quit runnin around with those mean girls

I guess you heard by now I decided well im not gonna waste anymore time on you it was quite a flame we ignited well its to bad you had such a hard time stayin true

I don't know where all this trouble started yea we jumped in well i guess i sank to deep I don't hold it against you the way we parted I just blame it on the company you keep

Don't blame me if i dont send you roses anymore Don't blame me if i dont kiss your hand and hold the door
well theres just to many others I had to compete
so honey when im gone
you can blame it on the company you keep

Well I had to watch your promises expire like a coupon in the sunday classifieds you still cry but now im just to damn tired (so tired) so one thing is for sure you cant say I never tried

Don't blame me if I dont send you roses anymore Don't blame me if I dont kiss your hand and hold the
door
well theres just to many others
I had to compete
so honey when im gone
you can blame it on
the company you keep
So honey when im gone
You can blame it on
The company you keep yeah----
