same old bedroom floor,
same old empty sheets,
i hate this haunted bed,
so down here's where i sleep.
i tried to find a place to hide what you had left, somethings never change,
well my heart hasnt yet.

i dont wanna go out tonight,
yeah but i cant be alone,
standing underneath this broke street light,
can somebody take me home?

i hope that we had left wrapped around your ring, that river just rolled on by when i watched it sink.

i dont wanna go out tonight,
yeah but i cant be alone,
standing underneath this broke street light,
can somebody take me home?

can somebody take me out of this bar,
out of this heartache,
out of this world, it just keeps breaking down, keeps breaking down.

i dont wanna go out tonight,
standing underneath this broke street light,
can somebody take me home,
cause i dont wanna go out tonight,
yeah but i cant be alone,
standing underneath this broke street light,
can somebody take me home?
wont you take me home?
