Sounds like a scene from the silver screen Yeah, that's how it was Love doesn't always look like a picture perfect storybook
Ah, but sometimes it does

Standing beside her, the stars shined even brighter
And for a moment all the world was, all the world was still
I knew we belonged together the moment my eyes met hers
And I thought nothing lasts forever but maybe this one will

A deep breath and baby steps
That's how the whole thing starts
It's a long, slow, beautiful dance
To the beat of a heart

The world starts to spin again
You learn things you didn't know then Feels like the bloom is off the rose
But you weather a few storms and you pull out a few thorns
And together the garden grows and grows

A deep breath and baby steps
That's how the whole thing starts
It's a long, slow, beautiful dance
To the beat of a heart

It's a long, slow, beautiful dance, my friend

The house is filled with so much love
We got more than enough for two
So we've been thinking about having a baby
I know it sounds crazy, but it seems like the natural thing to do

A deep breath and baby steps
That's how the whole thing starts
It's a long, slow, beautiful dance

To the beat of a heart

It's a long, slow

It's a long, slow

It's a long, slow
