there is something else

there is danger here you won't let it be and you're faking blindness playing you will see

but your hiding something make no mistake and what you never gonna give me you know i gonna try and take so lets get going and make it quick and let no-one be the wiser 'cause at the place we're going to you're gonna meet your excersizer

(ref)'cause there is something else you've got
and there is something else i want there is something else you do that it making it happen for me and you i'm like a refugee that's looking for a place to go don't start asking me what it is that made me so

'cause in my fantasies i've always lost my way now i'm gonna need your help in finding the light of day and i try to go on living in my own way and keep my feet on high ground when i take a look at you i know just what it was that broke all my resistance down

(ref)'cause there is something else you've got
and there is something else i want

you play your tricks on me but show me that something else i want to see ...rather see

(ref)'cause there is something else you've got
and there is something else i want
that it making it happen for me and you
