They said you led your life
With a well mannered state of mind
They said that you kept your eyes forward
And your feet were held by no bind

They said you were good for me, but I just Can't see that they were ever right
I guess they didn't know you
Half as well as they must've thought

I guess your friends are just as fooled as you were
And you talk and talk but you ain't doing nothing

You said that in all the world
There were only two things you despised
The first was a coward
And the second one was a liar

You said that honesty was your policy
But that in itself is a lie
Forgot to add hypocrite to your little list
Of how to run your life

I guess your friends are just as fooled as you were
And you talk and talk but you ain't doing nothing

Well I say I lead my life
With a well mannered state of mind
I say I like to keep moving forward
And be held by no binds

Well you may call me ambitious
But I don't see how there's any other way to be
'Cause a day is a lifetime
If you'll only sweep your problems away

I guess your friends are just as fooled as you were
And you talk and talk but you ain't doing nothing
