Whenever the sun doesn't shine your way
If ever the clouds in your sky turn gray
If ever your money all ran dry
And all of your friends just passed you by

If ever your life is in dismay
And leave you confused in so much pain
Whenever you feel so all alone
There is a place you can call your own

Just fly away
Soar beyond all your troubles
Cast all your cares away
Just fly away into the arms of love, love

Don't be afraid under the wings of mercy
You'll never be let down
Don't run away believing that you could survive
I'll be right by your side

If you ever need a hug from me
Because you've been crying down on your knees
If you ever need a place to stay
Call and ask me and I'll be on my way

I know you're tired of being let down
Your so called friends they don't come around
I'll be a friend you can call
I will be right there to catch you when you fall

Just fly away
Soar beyond all your troubles
Cast all your cares away
Just fly away into the arms of love, love

Don't be afraid under the wings of mercy
You'll never be let down
Don't run away believing that you could survive
I'll be right by your side

Just fly away

You can't do this on your own
Life's not meant for us to live alone
There's no need to be in fear
Dry your eyes and let me wipe your tears

We've all seen some better days
Times get hard and some lose faith
Believe in me and what we share
No matter what I'll always be right there

Just fly away
Soar beyond all your troubles
Cast all your cares away
Just fly away into the arms of love

Don't be afraid under the wings of mercy
You'll never be let down
Don't run away believing that you could survive
I'll be right by your side

Just fly away
Soar beyond all your troubles
Cast all your cares away
Just fly away into the arms of love

Don't be afraid
