[Raven:]

Little by little we can make it better

Little by little everyone together

Every little bit we give we get back more

[Orlando:]

One look into the future

Find out whats it gonna be

Why wait for something to happen

Why not change and see

This time its all gonna work

With every step that we take

We get so much closer

Where theres a will theres a way

[Raven:]

Little by little we can make it better

Little by little everyone together

Every little bit we give we get back more

Little by little we can make a difference

Little by little how it always begins

We can make it better than it ever was before

[Raven:]

Everything will be alright

Never know until we try

More than what we say is what we do

What we give is what we get

Keep on movin' straight ahead

Make it better anytime we chose

[Orlando:]

Why say wait for tommrow

Why dont we say right now

This world can be what we make it

Thats what its all about one thing leads to another

Lets change whats up ahead

Everythings possible if we take it step by step

[Raven:]

Little by little we can make it better

Little by little everyone together

Every little bit we give we get back more

Little by little we can make a difference

Little by little how it always begins

We can make it better than it ever was before

[Orlando:]

Keep your eyes on another rime kept to the sky

No anterouge needed me alone captures your eye

B.A.C. first born in the industry

If indeed first guy with a remody

Spiritally mentally and physically

Positivity is stability of the you which resembles me

We got a multiple choice to do what we wanna do

We can rule if we use one voice

[Raven:]

Everything will be alright

Never know until we try

More than what we say is what we do

Keep on movin' straight ahead

Make it better anytime we chose

Little by little we can make it better

Little by little everyone together

Every little bit we give we get back more

Little by little we can make a difference

Little by little how it always begins

We can make it better than it ever was before

Little by little we can make it better

Little by little everyone together

Every little bit we give we get back more

Little by little we can make a difference

Little by little how it always begins

We can make it better than it ever was before
