at last we meet for the final stand on the hillside of your father's land the sound of steel, the call of doom hail the rainstorm, hail the gloom we march, we fight, we die, we rule!!!

now here we stand,
where the sky forever fades
praise our names,
cause our glory now lives on...
free now at last,
like a bird we rule the sky wave to the stars as they greet the newborn king

crossing swords for a final time the rage of battles call under raven skies at night the chilling song of wolves the tune of doom we know so well the somber chant from the pits of hell... marching forward, never retreat we know the end is nigh...

now here we stand,
praise our names,
cause our glory now lives on...
free now at last,
wave to the stars as they greet the newborn king crowned by the night, to rule the silent realm high on his throne he bears the jewels of man...lonely till the end
