music: wells lyrics: based on beowulf the midnight sun above the ruins darkness drapes the land a peaceful scene in the dark of night the carnival of souls far away lands of kings and queens in peril they now are a messenger sent to seek the brave to free the land enslaved... a violent creature in the mountain dwells and preys on the child of man the eaters of the dead they are a dread from ancient times fear the dark and the mist it brings from the hillsides roars are heard a battle rages to slay the beasts a fight to free the land on nightfall of the 7th day battle cries were heard broken bodies the price they pay for a battle fought and won a broken beast lies conquered now as a land is freed at last a tyrant's rule now torn apart as the grendel's body breaks
