Off on the road with your basket of pride
Little do you know, you'll be buried this time
All dressed in red, so far from home
You're in the woods and you're all on your own

No need for your disguises
You're crystal clear I see right through
To you

This place is nowhere like you've been
This face is nothing like you've seen
And strangers don't wear their hearts on their sleeves
Just fake smiles that you'll believe
You'll believe

So with this grin I reel you in, into believing We'll play pretend and I won't lead you to destruction

So watch your steps and take your breaths carefully
As my deception slowly sets in

This place is nowhere like you've been
This face is nothing like you've seen
And strangers don't wear their hearts on their sleeves
Just fake smiles that you'll believe
You'll believe

You'll believe
It's just like we're strangers

This place is nowhere like you've been
This face is nothing like you've seen
And strangers don't wear their hearts on their sleeves
Just fake smiles that you'll believe
You'll believe
